

Protect Your Business and Reputation by Making Better Decisions

Poor business decisions based on incomprehensive, inaccurate, or outdated information put businesses and reputations at risk. Make better, informed reputational and operational decisions with due diligence investigative reports sourced from a trusted corporate due diligence, executive screening, and global investigations firm.

Sterling Diligence, in association with Bishops and its 120-year history, provides due diligence investigative reporting for individuals and businesses. A long-standing, trusted due diligence partner, Sterling Diligence enables our investigative reporting to uncover more information faster.

Sterling Diligence specializes in four main investigative areas:

- Pre-Investment Due Diligence
- Executive-Level Screening
- Vendor & Trade Partner Compliance
- Citizenship-by-Investment

In-Depth Analysis

Robust, in-depth findings and reports are highly accurate, thorough, and insightful. Investigations are specifically structured to reveal conflicts of interest, character issues, and other reputational risks. Leveraging a triangulated approach to research, a single source is not relied upon. Rather, several sources are utilized and verified, including publicly available information as well as direct access to specific agency and court records.

Global Expertise

Research and investigation is performed by a global network of licensed and certified field experts who possess breadth and depth of investigative experience. With resources available in over 190 countries and territories, in-market investigators understand local culture and how to navigate government nuances.

Technology-Driven

Cloud-based technology ensures Sterling Diligence is at the forefront of compliance, risk assessment, investigation regulations, and trends. Sterling is continuously testing new innovations and investing in advanced technologies.

Consultative Approach

Solutions are customized and tailored to your business needs, based on your business, budget, and requirements. Investigators are reliable and communicative throughout the investigations process.

Identify Risk with Sterling Diligence Investigative Reporting

Leverage relationships developed and nurtured over 120 years of business

Investigations handled with the utmost discretion and confidentiality

In-depth research and analysis performed by seasoned investigative experts

Individually crafted reports tailored to client needs

Information found by investigators, not provided by the subject

Reports contain thorough, highly accurate, objective information

ABOUT STERLING DILIGENCE

Sterling Diligence, in association with Bishops and its 120-year history, is a leader in providing corporate due diligence, and executive screening services for individuals and businesses. Our dedication to providing reliable, transparent, and actionable results, equips clients with the right information to make key strategic business decisions. Ethical, discreet and trusted by top tier investment firms and leading Fortune Global 500 companies, Sterling Diligence partners with clients to gain a deep understanding of their needs. Our research and reports are confidential and provide comprehensive analysis so organizations can manage reputational and operational risks.

sterlingdiligence.com | 833.231.5766